SUPERVISORS HARRIS, BIDDLE PLEASED WITH JUDGE'S DECISION ON VOTER ID LAW

Milwaukee, WI – Milwaukee County Supervisors Nikiya Q. Harris and Eyon Biddle, Sr., released the following statements after a Dane County judge issued a temporary injunction against the recently adopted Voter ID law:

Supervisor Nikiya Q. Harris

“My sincere thanks go to Judge David Flanagan for this decision today. I am excited and elated about this glimmer of hope for voters in Wisconsin. It’s wrong to make individuals jump through hurdles to exercise their constitutionally-guaranteed right to vote. Last year, I led the fight against the Voter ID bill and hosted a series of town hall meetings and information sessions to get the word out. We want to make sure that every voice is heard, and every vote counts.”

Supervisor Eyon Biddle, Sr.

“Governor Walker and the Legislature passed the Voter ID law to make it more difficult for citizens to exercise their right to vote. Silencing voices is not democratic. It is not American. Restricting the right to vote is disgusting. As an African-American leader, I recognize and understand the history of how people fought, bled and died for the right to vote. Judge Flanagan did the right thing. But don't start dancing in the end zone. This fight is far from over.”
